CHINESE ASSEMBLY MAKES PREPARATIONS FOR ELECTION OF YUAN SHI-KAI.

SUCCESSOR IS LAUDED

Dr. Sun Pays High Tribute to Premier Who Will Succeed Him.—Reaction Shown Against Latter.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Nanking, Feb. 15.—The National Assembly this afternoon unanimously elected Yuan Shi Kai, president of the Republic, and then decided the provisional capital shall be Nanking.

Nanking, China, Feb. 15.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen's resignation of the presidency of the Chinese Republic has been accepted by the National Assembly here on conditions that both he and the present cabinet hold office until the new president and cabinet take over their duties. The election of ministers and president are to take place this afternoon.

Commends Successor.
In the letter to the assembly in which he offered to lay down his position as chief executive, Dr. Sun Yat Sen says:

"Yuan Shi-Kai has declared that he adheres unconditionally to the national cause. He would surely prove a loyal servant of the state. Besides this, Yuan Shi-Kai is a man of constructive ability, upon whom our united union looks with the hope that he will bring about the consolidation of our interests."

"The happiness of our country depends upon your choice, farewell."

RUSSIAN COUNT AND WIFE BURIED TODAY WITH DUE CEREMONY

Embarrassing Situation Occurs When Coffins Are Found to Be Too Large for Vault.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Moscow, Russia, Feb. 15.—An extraordinary scene was witnessed during the funeral of Count and Countess Milyutin. The Count held the rank of Field Marshal and was chief aide de camp of the Emperor. He was minister of war during the reign of emperor Alexander the Second and was the leading champion of the cause of the liberation of the serfs.

The funeral was attended by a large number of deputations including several from France and Bulgaria. The coffins were lowered into the vault with imposing military honors but then an awkward situation arose. Both coffins were several inches larger than the apertures in the tomb. Workmen were at once called and attempted to enlarge the openings, but the cement would not yield.

The bodies were temporarily deposited in the chapel and when the tomb had been enlarged the ural services were repeated but with the omission of the military honors.

The count who was 94 years of age and his wife who was 89 died on the same day the countess expiring first.

Helena, Ark., Feb. 15.—Fatally wounded in a duel with a bartender here today James Gilbert, who came from Kentucky declared he was the man who fired the shot that killed Governor Goebel at Frankfort, Ky., in Jan. 1900.

Member of Notorious Gang.
Helena, Ark., Feb. 15.—Gilbert said he had been a member of the Harlan faction, notorious in Kentucky for two generations.

Gilbert came to Helena three years ago. Recently he was made deputy sheriff. County authorities declare he was without sense of physical fear.

Gilbert Not Heard in Trial.
Louisville, Ky., Feb. 15.—Gilbert's name did not appear in connection with the Goebel trial. Kentuckyans who were closely in touch with the Frankfort tragedy declare that after several men had been convicted and jailed, other men dragged their way into the killing. It is impossible to verify Gilbert's story.

TAFT WAS ENDORSED AT TODAY'S MEETING HELD IN MADISON

La Follette's Home District Regular Republicans Go Against Him.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison, Wis., Feb. 15.—Unqualified approval of the administration of President Taft was expressed by the Republicans of the Third congressional district this afternoon. This is the home district of Senator La Follette.

The convention was called to nominate two delegates to the national convention. Col. W. J. Anderson, member of the U. S. House of Representatives, former United States Indian commissioner, as chairman and upon motion of Charles Lamb a committee of seven was appointed to present names of candidates for delegates. Charles F. Lamb was made chairman and a committee of three, headed by Col. Anderson, was named to draft an expression of sentiment favorable to the re-nomination of President Taft. The resolution is in part as follows:

The Endorsement.
This convention of Republicans, representing the seven counties of the Third congressional district of Wisconsin, desires to place on record its unqualified approval of the administration of President William H. Taft and to pledge its utmost endeavors in favor of a continuance of that administration for another four years. It believes that President Taft should be re-nominated and re-elected, not for the reason merely that it is a party custom to accord such endorsement to a faithful executive; but rather because of the splendid record he has made—a record which has added lustre to the party's history and enhanced the dignity and prestige of the nation. No national administration since that of the lamented Lincoln will fill a more important page in the country's history."

Progressives Busy.
In an address to the progressives of the Second congressional district, the executive committee of the La Follette republican club of Wisconsin today presented the name of La Follette for the republican nomination for president. The resolutions cited that under La Follette's leadership Wisconsin, more than any other state "made the will of the people the law of the land" and cited in detail many pieces of legislation in this state for which he receives great credit.

PLEASED AT VISIT OF SECRETARY KNOX

President of Venezuela Expresses Satisfaction at Coming Visit of United States Official.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Caracas, Venezuela, Feb. 15.—Replying to an interview as to the news of the Venezuelan government regarding the announcement of the visit of Secretary of State Knox, General Manuel A. Matos, the Venezuelan minister of foreign affairs said: "The president and people of Venezuela have received the news of Mr. Knox's coming visit with great satisfaction. The president considers the visit of state secretary of the United States as a demonstration of friendship."

The government authorities already have begun preparations on a grand scale for the reception of Secretary Knox. Albrecht Northcott, the new minister from the United States to Venezuela has presented his credentials to the president who in reply to Mr. Northcott said on account of the approaching opening of the Panama Canal and the consequent expectation of the horizon of universal commerce, the economic interests of your fatherland and ours have been brought closer together. This will bring about here the formation of new bonds of friendship and respect for the fatherland of Washington and Lincoln, the standard bearers of greater world wide progress as they were of American liberty and brotherhood.

URGENT DEMAND FOR "SCHEDULE K" BILL

New Wool Tariff Revision Bill May Be Pressed Before Senate and Sugar Bill Side-tracked.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Feb. 15.—Strong pressure is being brought to bear on the democratic members of the House ways and means committee to report a new wool tariff revision bill at an early date and there is a possibility that the proposed sugar bill may be side-tracked to make way for the famous "Schedule K."

It became known today that Chairman Underwood for some time past has had experts at work on the report of the tariff board to determine what concession exists between the report and the wool bill which President Taft vetoed during the extra session. It is the frankly expressed hope of the House democrats that the points of similarity may be many. The sugar bill still is in embryonic condition and consideration is being given to a proposal to impose an internal tax to make up the heavy loss of revenues that would come from reduction of the customs duties.

Disproves Story.
Parceval Roberts, a director of the U. S. Steel corporation before the house "steel trust" investigating committee today denied statement by Lewis D. WISCONSIN STUDENTS NEED CO-OPERATION

Carl Beck Declares There Are Too Many Forces at University Pulling Apart.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Feb. 15.—Too many forces in Wisconsin University life pulling apart instead of together is Carl Beck's criticism for which he proposes remedies in a forthcoming article on "Wisconsin Spirit" in the Wisconsin magazine. The author, one of the best known Wisconsin students, concludes that "organized co-operation will do the business." He says:

"The common consciousness that we need right now is Wisconsin spirit, organization, and ourselves last. The spirit spirit of Yale is 'God, Country and Yale.' Our social faith has been to boost 'our stunt,' 'our club,' 'our specialty,' without recognizing the obligation which rests upon every 'specialty' to boost also Wisconsin as such. The jealousies and cross-purposes that sometimes arise are painful. It is a fallacy, also, to expect out of the complexity of university life a repeated group of rosters at the station to send off teams. If we could get the right understanding and the 'bond' spirit instead of the 'knock' spirit into every man and woman at Wisconsin, we could get together and solve the big social problems that are today bewildering the universities of the nation."

Mr. Beck proposes that Wisconsin be the same as some communities in the country are doing to create a civic phalanx to boost spirit and make conditions more efficient and better.

Regular Army Officer Makes Blunder as to Location of the Boundary Line.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
El Paso, Texas, Feb. 15.—American soldiers went into Juarez today by mistake and international trouble is threatened as a result. The soldiers were new men here and a company attempted to go around from one international bridge to another on the Mexican side. They were stopped by Mexican guards and the whole town quickly was in arms. Cars have stopped running. No American can get across there and the river is lined with armed Mexicans doing guard duty. The Americans are members of a battalion of the eighteenth infantry who came from Arizona yesterday. The soldiers were placed under arrest by the Mexican guards. The Americans were under command of Lieutenant W. M. Fields, who says he made a mistake. The town has quieted down now after the explanation and the men were released.

AGAINST REDUCTION OF DUTY ON SUGAR

Wisconsin Beet Growers Are Reported Exercised Over Proposed Change in Sugar Tariff.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Feb. 15.—Wisconsin beet growers, of whom there are now several thousand, are becoming excited over the proposal at Washington to have the tariff on sugar moved. Various farmers' organizations are said to be preparing to petition the Wisconsin congressional delegation to work against any reduction or repeal of the tariff, asserting that such a step would ruin the beet industry in this state. The Equity society has already appealed to congress against any reduction.

The beet industry in this state looks upon the proposal as a design of the sugar trust to injure its beet sugar competitors, who have invested millions in plants in the middle and far west.

The beet industry was started in Wisconsin ten years ago, and 20,000 acres are now given to beet cultivation for the four Wisconsin factories and one at Menominee, Mich. Just across the line, if tariff conditions are left undisturbed, it is asserted, the next five years will witness double the number of factories in operation, all with largely increased capacity, and a beet acreage of from 60,000 to 75,000 acres on Wisconsin farms. It would take sixteen factories of the size of those existing to supply this state with sugar. Wisconsin consumes over $10,000,000 worth of sugar a year, or about $30,000 a day. Michigan has sixteen factories, which work up products from 150,000 acres of beets, and produce more than enough sugar for Michigan consumption. Two million dollars was paid to Wisconsin farmers for beets last year.

LA FOLLETTE SENT PLEDGE OF SUPPORT BY HIS FOLLOWERS

Convention Delegates and Others Held Meeting Last Night and Sent Telegram of Encouragement.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Feb. 15.—Progressive republicans of Wisconsin, including the executive committee of the La Follette republican club and the La Follette delegates to the national convention, last night sent Senator Robert M. La Follette their pledge of unwavering support in his fight for the presidency. This pledge was contained in the following telegram:

Unqualified Support.
"Senator Robert M. La Follette, Washington, D. C.—A conference of the progressive republicans of Wisconsin, including their twenty-six candidates for delegates to the national convention, send you this greeting: 'The republicans of Wisconsin see straight to the end of the path. With vision unobscured they see beyond the confusion of the present to the assurance of certain victory in the distance. Knowing you, they know that you have never faltered or halted in pressing forward in the great fight to do for the nation what you have done for this state—to bring back to all the people the common rights of all. They ask no reassurance, require no bolstering of hopes, need no confirmation in the faith. With ranks unbroken, steadfastly as you have made the fight for them, they stand in the fight for you and for the principles your represent."

"John J. Blaine, chairman."
"Erich C. Stern, secretary."
Reassured by Houser.
The meeting, which was held in the office of Governor P. E. McFadden, was addressed by Walter L. Houser, Senator La Follette's campaign manager, who declared that his chief was in the fight to stay. He said that reports of the Senator's illness had been exaggerated and that a brief respite from the long grind of work at Washington is all that is needed to place him on his feet again.

When the conference adjourned last night it was expected that resolutions would be framed this morning, addressed to the progressives of the nation, in which it would be declared that Wisconsin will present the name of Senator La Follette to the republican national convention as the standard-bearer of the progressive republicans.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS ARREST OF SEVEN MORE OF INDICTED DYNAMITERS TODAY

Michael Young of Boston Is Especially Sought by Government Attorneys—47 Men Arrested.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 15.—Official reports received by the government before noon today show that only seven out of the fifty-four men indicted in the dynamite conspiracy had not been arrested.

Those not arrested are in custody, according to the government advisers, and are Michael J. Young, of Boston, member of the executive board of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; J. J. McCrea, formerly an iron worker of Wheeling, West Virginia, but said to have left there; J. W. Irwin, formerly, Ill., local union official; Frank K. Painter, Omaha, Neb., official of the local union said to have left there; Milton H. Davis, Philadelphia, former member of the executive board; Patrick Flynn, Chicago, local business agent; and William K. Benson, Detroit, former president of the Detroit federation of labor.

District Attorney Charles W. Miller was in communication with the federal authorities at Boston today in reference to the search for Young. Mr. Miller said the government was particularly anxious to apprehend Young who is one of the five executive board members indicted.

Other members are Frank M. Ryan, also president of the iron workers; Herbert S. Blockin of Detroit; John T. Butler, Buffalo, and Phillip A. Cooley of New Orleans. All the men west of Denver who were indicted, are regarded as being already in custody.

Appeals to President Tamm from many points were received today asking the Iron Workers' International Union to assist the indicted men in securing bond and thus prevent them from going to jail.

Boston, Feb. 15.—Michael J. Young, business agent for the western branch of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, surrendered at noon. He was held in $10,000 bail.

BASKETBALL GAME
GOES TO BROOKLYN

Intermediates Play in Hard Luck, Although They Outplayed Their Opponents During Whole Game.

Despite the fact that the intermediates ran all around their opponents last night in the game with Brooklyn they worked against a good deal of hard luck and lost the game 22 to 19. A great deal of fault was found with the referees, who were brought along by the visitors, and who did not seem to be able to judge the contest with a wholly unbiased mind. Although the game did not end in their favor the Janesville boys deserve the credit of a victory as they played their best throughout and did not lay down despite the injustices which were only too evident on the part of the officials and they have the satisfaction of knowing that they played right around their opponents during the entire game. To cap the climax the opposing team refused to play the last two minutes of the game when it was seen that the Janesville boys were creeping up on them and stood a good chance of taking the game even with all the odds against them and the referee would not give Janesville the game by default as the rules demand when one team refuses to play.

Soulman and Cunningham were the stars for their team and both in guarding and basket throwing were wonders. Kevin of the Brooklyn boys was the star and his accurate shooting was the feature of the game.

As the game finally came out the Janesville lads were rather disappointed and would gladly take the chance of meeting the Brooklyn bunch anywhere, providing they have a neutral referee.

GALL STONES CAUSE
INTENSE SUFFERINGTWELVE YEAR AILMENT SHOWS
REMARKABLE IMPROVEMENT WITH TWO MONTHS OF
THE UNITED DOCTORS' TREATMENT.

It is seldom that a patient cheerfully undergoes an operation, for nearly everyone is deathly afraid of the knife. It is small wonder when one considers the many deaths resulting from operations by inexperienced hands and the many useless operations. Sometimes, however, a person willingly undergoes the dread ordeal when in terrible pain as is the case when suffering from gall stones. One of the commonest results of gall stones is biliary colic, or an attack of gall stones, as it is sometimes called. When this occurs it is often so severe with pain or rather on the floor or bed, shivering may occur, and even epileptic form convulsions, and the patient is pale collapsed, with profuse sweating, and a small, feeble, generally quick pulse. After a time until a fresh attack of the acuter kind occurs.

Again, gall stones are sometimes entirely harmless, and are often found after death in the gall-bladder of patients who have never complained of their presence; but on the other hand, they may also be to very serious symptoms, and are not infrequently the cause of death.

The United Doctors, who have their Janesville Institute in the Hayes Bldg., corner of Milwaukee and Main Sts., have had a wonderful success with their new non-surgical methods. They never use the knife or cut into the body. The following testimonial, written to the United Doctors by a well known Streator, Ill., woman, who had been suffering from gall stones, will be of interest to the sick: "I have been suffering with gall stones and with pains in the back for the last twelve years and it kept me in bed considerable though I doctored with many doctors and took all kinds of medicines. I got no relief from them whatever. I heard of your treatment and began to take the United Doctors' treatment and now after only two months my pain has left me and I feel very much better and stronger, and can now do my work again." Skene Katherine Hensel, 203 South Third street, Streator, Ill.

The United Doctors treat among other diseases and ailments, diseases of the nerves, blood, kidneys, heart, liver, bladder, spleen, skin, including paralysis, epilepsy, rheumatism, constipation, colitis, indigestion, dropsy, tumors, neuritis and catarrh.

GIVES ITS DECISION
FOR JANESVILLE MANIndustrial Commission Awards Anton
Cler Compensation for Injuries
Received in Employment of City.

Compensation for time lost amounting to $91.01, and $25.75 in payment of a doctor's bill has been awarded Anton Hier of this city by the Wisconsin Industrial Commission which held a hearing on his application in this city, Friday, February 9th, Chief Examiner L. A. Tarroll presiding. The commission found that Anton Hier was injured while in the service of the city, July 14, 1911. He was engaged in taking up an old sewer when the accident occurred, as the result of which both tendons of his left arm were severed just above the wrist. incapacitating him from work until October 23, 1911. There was no evidence to show that Hier was not guilty of willful misconduct and the city made no fight on his appeal. H. L. Maxfield was his attorney.

The amount of compensation received by Mr. Hier is 65 per cent of fourteen weeks' pay, figured on an average of $10.10 per day. The doctor's bill is that of Dr. Charles H. Sutherland, who attended Mr. Hier. The city must pay the respondent within thirty days and a receipt for the compensation must be received by them and forwarded to the Industrial Commission. The decision is signed by the three commissioners, C. H. Crownhart, J. D. Beck, and J. R. Commons.

"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER."

Brilliant with melody and effervescent with the satiric humor of George Bernard Shaw, "The Chocolate Soldier" will come to delight the stage goers, with all the elaborate equipment of the splendid Whittier Opera Company, including the Whittier Opera Company Orchestra on Tuesday evening March 5th, Myers Theatre.

Entirely an unknown quantity, this opera marched into New York and won success for itself unequalled in the last two decades, and then entered Chicago, and compelled a greater praise than Chicago critics had ever before given a light opera. Not only is the melodious score by Oscar Strauss real music, overflowing with the appealing sensuousness of Viennese love music and whirling, gypsy-like marches that, if one may judge by the fragments that have preceded its coming, set the toes to thrilling, and the heart to beating, but the story contains delightful comedy, its plot is consistent, and plausible, and the characters are human, being, doing human things in an explainable way.

"The Chocolate Soldier" has been eagerly seized upon by those optimistic critics who believe the "average man" is more than ready to welcome true music, whether or not it may be "catered" for by opera has been so analytically praised by students of harmony, and yet has played to such tremendous audiences during its seasons' stay in New York and Chicago, thereby identifying its equal appeal to the seeker of mere musical entertainment.

Next Friday evening, Feb. 23, the port Hughes' farce "Excuse Me," as presented and produced by Henry W. Savage at the Gaiety Theatre, New York, will be the attraction.

Word of the laughter-producing qualities of this "Puffman Car Carnival" long ago reached Janesville and there is every prospect that it will appeal to local playgoers with sufficient emphasis to justify its returning to this city for many years.

Henry W. Savage has earned the reputation of a manager who never does things by halves, and in his mounting and casting of "Excuse Me" he has shown as much skill and care as have characterized any other production sponsored by him. In the company which will interpret the Hughes' story there are a number of players well known to local playgoers by reason of many previous visits here.

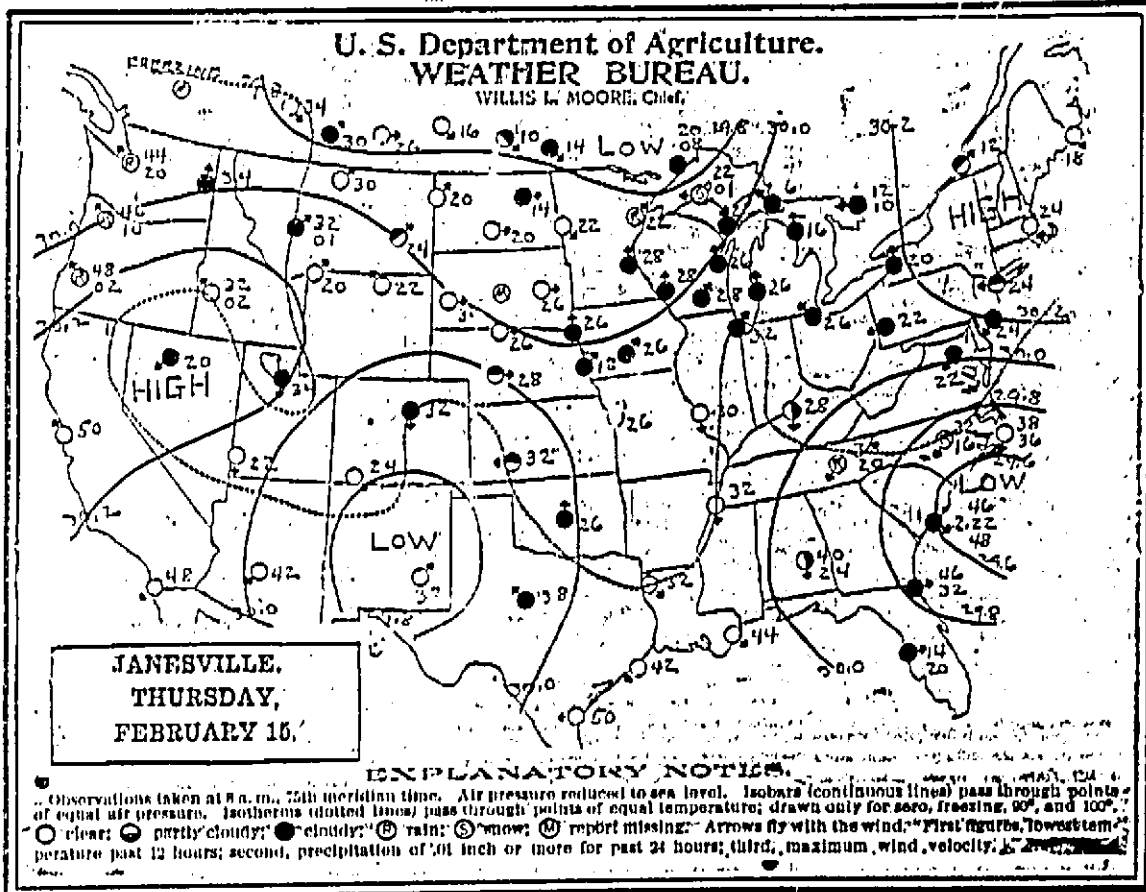

MYERS STOCK COMPANY
CHANGES ITS BILL TONIGHT.

The Adelardo Dalton Stock company will change their play tonight to "The Village Schoolmaster" one of the best rural comedy dramas ever written. The story of the play is simple, but interesting and has a strong run of splendid comedy running throughout the entire piece.

The school room scene is in itself worth the price of admission for while it is seemingly funny it is still true to life in every respect.

As has been advertised the company will use a real live lamb in this play and will give it away Saturday matinee to the child holding the lucky number, a number will be given out with each ticket at all the performances, so save your number and send them with some child who comes to the matinee Saturday afternoon.

"The Village Schoolmaster" will play for three nights, Thursday, Friday and Saturday with a special matinee Saturday afternoon for the school children.

The atmospheric pressure is low throughout western Canada. As a consequence the weather is cloudy and warm, for the season, through out the greater part of the United States. There have been light snow storms around Lakes Superior and Huron, and light rains on the north Pacific coast and in the Columbia basin. The disturbance that was in the eastern end of the Gulf of Mexico yesterday has crossed Florida to the Atlantic, and has increased in intensity. Heavy rains have fallen on the south Atlantic coast, and there have been high winds. There is another center of low atmospheric pressure in the southwest. It has so far caused only cloudiness and warmer weather in its vicinity, but it may develop into a storm as it moves eastward. In this vicinity the weather will continue cloudy, possibly with light rain or snow. Moderate temperatures will prevail tonight and Friday.

RIGHT IN IT!

THE tendency of the age seems to be in the record smashing direction. You will find that feeling prevalent in the fields of both mental and physical exertion. Business, being such a delightful combination of both, should certainly not be without it. We, too, are beating all previous achievements. Week by week and month by month the percentage climbs until we hardly know ourselves any more. This proves to us, as it must to you, that our methods are correct and that in its double sense--we are RIGHT IN IT.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Janesville and vicinity: Unsettled weather tonight and Friday, with moderate temperature.

TO PROSPECTIVE CANDIDATES.

The coming primary election is likely to put in the field a large number of candidates, as any man has a right to aspire to the office of either mayor or commissioner, who feels so inclined. It will be necessary for those men to get before the people, and for their information and convenience the Gazette publishes the following brief form of announcement which occupies about one inch of space. The charge for inserting this notice is 25 cents each issue, cash with order. No account will be opened with candidates.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for.....at the coming primary election, and solicit the support of the voters.

(Signed).....
The Gazette has no names to suggest, and will support no man for office before the primary election.

KNIGHT OF THE GARTER.

The Wall Street Journal accords considerable importance behind the conferring of the honor of the Knight of the Garter on Sir Edward Grey, by King George. It handles the matter in its leading editorial in the following manner:

"There is an international significance about the latest dignity conferred by the British Crown which the sensitive financial markets of the world will appreciate. In American eyes there is nothing so wonderful about such distinctions as are implied in the various European orders of knighthood. They appear only to nonn the addition of certain cabalistic letters after a man's name, and the privilege of wearing on his coat a jeweled ornament looking rather like an open-work jam tart. The Knighthood of the Garter, in fact, leaves us cold.

"But the Garter is a peculiar order. As a former Duke of Bedford said, 'There's no damned merit about it.' Only fourteen of Great Britain's thirty dukes, not of royal blood, possess the distinction. There are thirteen kings who belong to it and fourteen 'royal highnesses' of various descriptions. Its humblest membership is in the eighth earl; but they are saved from obscurity by the inclusion of Lord Roberts and Lord Rosebery. Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, is the first commoner to receive the order since Sir Robert Walpole, Prime Minister to George I., nearly two hundred years ago.

"This distinction, then, is exceptional and is meant to have exceptional significance. Lord Haldane, the British Secretary for War, has been on his supposed to be a peaceful mission to Berlin. Sir Edward Grey has been responsible for the British foreign policy, and certainly that policy can have given no pleasure to Germany, where it is considered that Great Britain has been successful at the German expense. Whatever military may be in power, the British foreign policy is consistent and uniform, and the rule is wisely followed of not making changes to suit more factional feeling. Sir Edward Grey inherits from Lord Salisbury rather than from any Liberal predecessor.

"His promotion, therefore, in such an intentionally conspicuous way, is an intimation that, while Great Britain is anxious to establish more friendly relations with Germany, she has no idea of changing her foreign policy. The Foreign Secretary might at any time have had a peerage for the asking; but like many of England's greatest statesmen, he likes the activity and opportunities of the House of Commons rather than the cloistered seclusion of the Upper Chamber. His acceptance of a peerage, in fact, would have conveyed exactly the opposite impression to the dignity now conferred. It would have meant that he had been, in the expressive English phrase, kicked upstairs.

"There is something not remotely unlike a challenge in the announcement. The British government, in fact, at whose instance the sovereign acts in conferring such dignities, intimates thereby that it is willing to be friendly but has no intention of backing down."

THE FEDERAL DRAG-NET.

Uncle Sam has drawn in his drag-net and in its meshes he finds many of the leaders of organized labor. Even Samuel Gompers must have learned a lesson of moderation in credulity. It will be remembered he was certain of the innocence of the McNamara when they were arrested. Now they are self-confessed felons serving their prison sentences. When they confessed he could not believe the news and what he will say now to the grand haul of the federal drag-net of other labor leaders will be hard to put in print. "The law presumes these men innocent," says an exchange, "until the contrary is proven. It is up to the prosecution, representing the public, to prove their guilt, and there can be no doubt that they will get a square deal—no more, no less—in Uncle Sam's court. So will the public.

"As against this dynamite savagery it must sympathize with itself, and insist that a form of anarchy which menaces civilized society be resolutely stamped out. In the novelties public authority set its heel on the head of the snake of 'Molly Magdalen.' The confession of the McNamara and these subsequent recoveries have brought things to an issue in this new phase of the old contest between society and anarchy, and the hand of public authority must not be taken from the plow until the issue is settled right.

"That settlement should mean the dawn of better things in the industrial world.

"The great majority of good men and citizens on both sides should try to understand and appreciate each other, and not be kept apart by their respective minorities of firebrand agitators and profit hogs. Labor must weed its leadership of the element of thugs and loaches, and capital must face the fact of its own share of culpability for an embittered class feeling that is a mockery of Christian civilization. Worst of all is the hand that sedulously fans the flame."

POLITICS AGAIN.

This game of American politics is something that takes even the most astute unawares at times and befuddles the minds of the average citizen. Less than ten days ago we are told in dispatches that Senator La Follette was out of the race for the presidential nomination. His leaders immediately began active operations in behalf of Theodore Roosevelt and that gentleman remained silent, evidently waiting the call of the people before making any statement. Now comes the word that La Follette is not out of the race; that he will seek delegates throughout the country, in various states, just at present Wisconsin and South Dakota being named as his chosen, and that the great cause of reform will go on just as soon as he has recovered from his slight indisposition.

Meantime we learn that several states which have already selected delegates have named those favorable for Taft. That his campaign is to be pushed diligently, with headquarters in Chicago, and that the President means to make the light of his life in every state for delegates. His friends in Wisconsin are organizing and will put a Taft delegation in the field with some hopes of success. Meanwhile the insurgent leaders are howling down the Taft idea wherever they can and trying to bring out Roosevelt as an opposition candidate. Should they fall here they may turn to Cummings next as that gentleman from Iowa would be most glad for any prominence his candidacy may arouse.

But the democrats are not even quiet. Wilson and Clark are fighting it out for the southern delegations, while Harmon's friends in the north are not idle. We are informed that there are Harmon and Wilson headquarters in Madison and that much money will be used; in fact, today the democrats of Rock county are in session and this is the one burning question of debate. So it goes. Politics make strange bed fellows and an over night conference may change the whole aspect of the political campaign may of any or all candidates.

Street Commissioner Wilkins makes a good suggestion when he suggests that all business houses and private residences owners clean their sidewalks while there is an opportunity to do so. Nothing looks worse for a community than poorly kept sidewalks and some of the property-owners have thought a cow trail path was all that was needed evidently from their lack of exertion with the shovel and the broom.

Let all the good men get out for the offices of mayor and commissioner that want to. The public will decide who they want on the regular ticket on primary day and on election day will make their final selection.

It is now figured by an enterprising scientist that the world is something like 710,000,000 years old. Whow, but that is a long time to have suffered from political upheavals and congressional investigations.

Jim Hill says he will be a little angel with red, white and blue wings before he ever goes into the steel business after what he has heard of the Stanley investigation report.

Somebody has asked what the suffragette colors are. They are green, white and mauve we are told—not black and blue. That is the color of their opponents.

Champ Clark can not help wishing that the rest of the country was of the same opinion as Missouri.

PRESS COMMENT

War On Universty.

Marquette Eagle Star: No one will accuse Superintendent Cary of a lack of courage. On the eve of an election which will decide his future incumbency of the office, he has commenced a war against educational verity, the strongest educational verity in the state is at stake, not only in an educational way but in an entrenched behind powerful fortifications in other ways.

Best Beyond Measure.

Madison Democrat: Nevertheless, the ultimate consumer seems to be getting just about what he voted for. Information never has been effected without sacrifice and burden. Our load at present seems excessive, but only think of the wondrous purity, morality and beauty of the times in which we live! Was mankind ever so blessed? Never—that is hardly ever.

Votes Do Count.

Milwaukee Journal: Now E. L. Phillips suggests Taft and Cummings as a great presidential team. Phillips evidently believes that it is necessary to add some vote-getting feature to the Taft ticket if it is to make any kind of showing.

One On Watterson.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Governor Wilson admits that he likes his experience in practical politics "first rate." Which ought to convince Col. Watterson that his own recent efforts have simply amounted to a case of "love's labor lost."

An Important Part.

Chicago Examiner: In California, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah and Colorado women have the electoral suffrage and will vote for President next November. The voting population of these six states—women included—amounts to nearly two millions. This the Presidential vote cast by women this year—eight or nine hundred thousand—will be more than the probable margin between the two parties.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

IT IS NOT FAIR.

In the year 1801, William M. Yoder of Oklahoma was found guilty of the murder of a Mr. Elk and sentenced to state prison for life.

Yet Yoder was innocent.

The evidence was entirely circumstantial. A body identified as that of Elk was found. Yoder was tried and convicted.

Mrs. Yoder knew her husband was at home the night the murder was said to have been committed and so testified at the trial.

Left with four small children to support, she did not give up hope. All the time and money she could spare she devoted to the search for Elk, whom she believed to be living. Try as she might, however, she could not locate the man.

Well—Eighteen months ago friends of Yoder who had been convinced by the wife of Yoder's innocence succeeded in securing his parole. Yoder was not satisfied with mere restoration to freedom. He wanted to clear his name.

He joined his wife in the search for Elk.

Some time ago it was learned that a man bearing Elk's description was living in Texas. Upon investigation he proved to be the much wanted person.

Now Elk is going to Oklahoma City to prove his identity and clear the name of the man who, though innocent, spent eight of the best years of his life behind the bars.

Now—In this case, as in others of like character, society blundered. It stole the good name of a man, robbed him of eight years' earnings, blighted the life of his wife and children, ruined his prospects beyond repair.

Is it fair merely to turn him loose? Is the state of Oklahoma satisfied to give Yoder his freedom and say it was mistaken? Is that reparation? Does that pay for the disgrace, the anxiety, the wasted years?

Oklahoma owes Yoder more than an apology.

In New Zealand they do it differently. In cases of this sort the victim is not merely given his liberty; he is paid for every day's labor he has given the state. And he is awarded damages.

It is not fair to do less than that.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

SILENCE (With apologies to John Lannister Spalding.) Inaudible move day and night And noiseless grows the flower. Silent are pulsing wings of light, And voices fleet the hour.

The moon utters no word when she walks through the heavens bare; The stars forever silent flee And songless gleam through air.

The first real test of married life is to find out which one is going to get up and put the cat out.

Anne Judson had a good joke on a burglar the other night. The burglar told Anne to throw up his hands, and keep still and Anne laughed and told him to help himself. You see the burglar didn't know that a committee for the rummage sale had been there that day and had gone through the house with a vacuum cleaner and picked up everything worth while. A burglar's life must be full of disappointments.

There are a good many better ways to get a reputation for havin' a lot of money than by pulling out a roll of bills in a saloon.

The only fellows who seem to have a chance on not gettin' killed are them which 'take' part in the Central American wars. It's a good deal safer than workin' on a railroad or driving a racing automobile.

It is said that President Taft is constantly surrounded by a large party of friends. Well, by gum, it takes a large party of friends to surround him. It doesn't seem as though the Derby hat and the four-in-hand necktie that he's on with a rubber are ever going to go out of style.

Some fellows are just naturally born foolish and others wear white hats in the winter time.

'Hank Tuama' has drunk up five of his Christmas presents and is saving the last one for his birthday.

Nothing is impossible in this world. Anne Judson has got an electric light in his house that you light by pulling down a chain and put out by pulling down the same chain. I kin solve the nebular hypothesis and the fourth dimensions, but this linckack is away beyond me.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Paid advertisement; amount paid, $1.00 each insertion.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Mayor of the City of Janesville, at the coming primaries to be held on the 19th day of March, 1912.

To the Citizens of Janesville: Realizing the responsibility of the office I am about to seek and fully conscious of the duties of said office, and with a full belief that I could bring to it, as well as the knowledge gained by long experience in the municipal affairs of our city, which would be of material benefit to the taxpayers and citizens in general, and particularly, now that we are about to enter upon a new form of government.

Therefore I seek the nomination and election to the office of Mayor. Should I be entrusted with the honor and important duties of said office, I can only promise, to the best of my ability, an honest, economical, industrious and faithful administration of its duties in a plain, business-like manner. Soliciting the support of my fellow citizens and submitting my past public record to stand in judgment of my future actions, I am,

DEMOCRATS WANTED SUTHERLAND TO BE THEIR CANDIDATE

Met at City Hall This Afternoon to Plan for Campaign—State Chairman Not Able to Come.

Fifty or more democrats, representing most of the precincts in Rock county, met at the city hall this afternoon to form a county organization and lay plans for the coming presidential and state campaigns. Frank H. Schultz of Milwaukee, democratic state chairman, and J. E. Davies of Madison, member of the democratic national committee, were unable to come. As soon as it was learned that Mr. Davies could not come, Robert Kirkland of Jefferson was telephoned to take his place, but he had not arrived at the time the meeting opened.

Alderman Edward Council, democratic chairman of Rock county, called the meeting to order and presided. On taking the chair he called J. J. Cunningham, member of the democratic state central committee, to explain the purpose of the meeting. Mr. Cunningham responded with a round and enthusiastic address. He informed those present that the meeting of the county democratic committee was primarily to select a candidate for governor, but it was not intended to declare in favor of any candidate. He expressed his regret that Mr. Schultz and Mr. Davies were not able to be present and paid a tribute to both gentlemen as organizers of acknowledged merit. He announced that letters had been received from L. M. Richmond of Evansville, A. N. Holt of Beloit, and Andrew Jensen of Edgerton, regretting their inability to attend the meeting and expressing their hearty support of the committee in its work.

"Voters are generally agreed," declared Mr. Cunningham, "that it is time there was a change in national and state administrations. The republicans know it as well as the democrats, and that the democratic party is the logical party to offer at the polls. Thousands of republicans will vote the democratic ticket but they look to us to carry on the campaign. We need to place at the head of our tickets capable men—men who will stand for equal rights for all. It is time that this state revolted against the present system by which it is governed. We have no quarrel with the officers as such. We are opposed to the system that takes power from the locality and places it at the top, in commissions and executive officers. Our state government is top-heavy. Notwithstanding that millions of dollars have been poured into the state treasury taxes have increased just the same. If we do not call a halt the larger part of our incomes will go to support the employees of state commissions and administrative officers."

Among the well known democrats in the county, Charles O. Olson, president of Clinton; John C. Clark, Matthew Lathers, John C. Porter, W. P. Christman, and Albert Baldwin of Clinton; C. J. Horn of Edgerton, and Robert Goodwin of Beloit.

When the organization was completed Claude Hendricks, created the excitement of the afternoon by presenting the name of George G. Sutherland to the meeting as the choice of Rock county democrats as their candidate for governor. Mr. Hendricks made an excellent talk and the mention of Mr. Sutherland's name brought forth loud applause which did not cease even after Mr. Sutherland himself had arisen and stated that he could not possibly permit even his name to be mentioned in this connection.

ADVOCATE UNIFORM WEIGHTS AND MEASURES LEGISLATION.

Reform to be Urged by Conference of State Senators Which Opened in Washington Today.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—Federal regulation of weights and measures in so far as it is necessary to secure uniformity in the laws throughout the country will be urged by the conference of the state senators of weights and measures, which began at the Department of Commerce and Labor today and will continue over tomorrow. As a result of the agitation on the subject the legislatures of 27 states already have taken action looking to uniform laws to govern weights and measures.

WISCONSIN IGNORES ATTITUDE OF OHIO
Refusal to Transfer of the Naval Training Ship to Wisconsin.
Waters, Not Disturbing.
(Special to the Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Feb. 15.—Ohio's belligerent disposition in the matter of the transfer of the naval training ship, Dorothea, to Wisconsin waters is regarded with complacency by Wisconsin's military men. It is reported that Gov. Judson Harmon has joined a movement to prevent the ship from leaving Lake Erie. Wisconsin military officials recently secured the war department's order transferring it to Lake Superior for use of the naval division of the Wisconsin National guard at Ashland.
"What are we going to do about it?" repeated Assistant Adjutant General John G. Salaman. "Just wait until the ice breaks up and see. We have our order giving us the ship. The war department is not in the habit of issuing orders and repealing them the next moment at the whim of disgruntled officials. Ohio's naval militia is no larger than ours, and we easily convinced the department of the justice of our claim for the training ship. Ohio has another ship of the same kind. At present we have none."
It is understood that Gov. McGovern entertains views similar to Gen. Salaman's.

WHITewater MAN IS DRAGGED TO DEATH ON A LONELY ROAD
Edw. Parish Who Was Hauling Wood From Richmond Thrown From Sleigh and Dragged Late Yesterday.
(Special to the Gazette.)
Richmond, Feb. 15.—Edward Parish, a middle-aged man who resided at Whitewater, who has been employed hauling cord wood from Richmond to Whitewater, was dragged to death by his team near this place late yesterday afternoon.
The accident happened on a lonely road and no one was near at the time so that it is not known just how the accident occurred. It is supposed, however, that Mr. Parish had been standing on the front of his sleigh when it suddenly went into a ditch-hole throwing the driver from the load. He was evidently caught in some way in the front of the sleigh and part of the load fell on top of him.
The team started to run and it is thought that one of the horses struck the man several blows in a frightened effort to escape from the load. From the trail of blood which was left in the snow it was seen that he had been drawn over a mile before the team was stopped by Alonzo Hulke who was returning from Whitewater late yesterday.
The team was found near the Wolfenbut farm and Mr. Parish's body was freed from the sleigh and entangled mass of cord wood. He was already dead and the remains were horribly mangled.
He leaves a wife and two children living in Whitewater.

CATHOLIC STUDENTS USE HAMMER FREELY

Publication at Madison Hits Y. M. C. A. Socialism, and Glendon's Policy of Bible Distribution.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Feb. 15.—A protest against the professions of unsectarianism of the Young Men's Christian Association, against the domination of Socialists in the student conference at the University of Wisconsin, and against the custom of the Glendon in putting sectarian Bibles in hotel rooms, marked the February issue of the "Catholic Student," organ of the Catholic Students' Association of America. The magazine is edited by Wisconsin students and published here.

The editor says that by the religious test of the Y. M. C. A. members of the Catholic, Unitarian and Jewish churches are debarred from participating in its full privileges, and claims that its profession of being "non-sectarian" is fallacious. The editor suggests that the association is sailing under false colors.

Speaking of socialism, an editorial says: "When we see socialistic tendencies creeping into our colleges and universities it is high time that all Catholic students work together in an effort to stamp them out. At the university of Wisconsin there is an organized body of socialists. The legislative body in the university that represents the students is controlled by some of the socialist leaders. It looks at present, however, as though the students next year will rise up and elect men who have minds of their own."

The magazine commends the action of certain Boston hotels which refused the offer of the Glendon to place Bibles in all the rooms, and noted that the use of sectarian Bible in the public schools was stopped in several states by law.

FEATURES OF INCOME TAX LAW EXPLAINED

taxes upon the property or business from which the income is derived.

This does not mean that all taxes can be deducted, but only those paid upon the property which produced the income.

(1) All inheritance, devise and bequest received during the year upon which an inheritance tax shall have been paid to this state.

Section 1087m-4. (1) Insurance to the total amount of ten thousand dollars received by any person or persons, including dependent upon the decedent, in payment of a death claim by any insurance company, fraternal benefit society or other insurer.

It is only the life insurance in excess of $10,000 which is subject to an income tax.

The expression "legally dependent upon the decedent" is more restricted in its application than is perhaps generally supposed. Children are legally dependent upon their parents until they become of age and wives are legally dependent upon their husbands, but parents are not legally dependent upon their children nor husbands upon their wives except in cases where such person is a "poor person who is blind, old, lame, impotent or decrepit so as to be unable to maintain himself." (See section 1087, revised statutes, as amended by chapter 207, laws of 1909). Brother and sisters, uncles and aunts and nephews and nieces, grandparents and grandchildren are not "legally dependent" upon each other except in certain special circumstances resulting from court proceedings.

Upon the marriage of a female child the obligation of the parent to support her ceases and the husband then becomes liable.

A husband is under no legal obligation to support his wife's parents. A stepfather is not necessarily bound to support a stepchild; but if he receives the child into his family and treats it as a member thereof, he stands in the place of the natural parent and the reciprocal rights, duties and obligations of parent and child continue as long as such relation continues. With the exception just noted a stepchild is not bound to support its step-parent.

Exemptions to Individuals

Section 1087m-5. 1. There shall be exempt from taxation under this act income as follows, to-wit:

(a) To an individual income up to and including eight hundred dollars.

(b) To husband and wife, twelve hundred dollars.

(c) For each child under the age of eighteen years, two hundred dollars.

(d) For each additional person, for whom support the taxpayer is legally liable and who is entirely dependent upon the taxpayer for his support, two hundred dollars.

Attention is called to the wording of paragraph (d) of the above section. The use of the word "and" instead of "or" indicates that the "additional person" must be not only "for whom support the taxpayer is legally liable" but also one "who is entirely dependent upon the taxpayer for his support." Only those persons who are "legally dependent" upon the taxpayer as these words are defined in the note to section 1087m-4, (1) in the preceding chapter would come under the head of persons "for whose support the taxpayer is legally liable," and it would therefore follow that no exception could be claimed for a brother, sister, aunt, uncle, etc., even though such person was entirely dependent upon the taxpayer for his support.

Section 1087m-5. (e) The above exemption shall not apply to incomes derived from sources within the state by nonresidents thereof, nor to firms, corporations, partnerships, joint stock companies or associations, in computing said exemptions and the amounts of taxes payable under section 1087m-7-6, of this act, the income of a wife shall be added to the income of her husband, and the income of each child under eighteen years of age to that of its parent or parents, when said wife or child is not living separately from said husband, parent or parents.

A firm is a partnership or association of two or more persons for carrying on a business. If only one person is interested in the business, there is no firm or partnership, even though a firm name should be used. A firm is an intangible, artificial person represented by the persons who compose it and may be treated as an entity for purposes of taxation.

A copartnership is the same as a partnership and has been defined as the relationship subsisting between persons who combine their services, property and credit for the purpose of conducting business for their joint benefit.

While a firm or copartnership as such is not entitled to the above exemptions it may deduct among other "ordinary and necessary expenses" (section 1087m-11a) salaries paid to members of the firm, such payments to be reported in accordance with section 1087m-3 (e).

Section 1087m-5-2. Income of any mutual savings or loan and building association, or of any religious, scientific, educational benevolent or other association of individuals not organized or conducted for pecuniary benefit.

This exemption benefits only associations and individuals such as choronzon, church workers, and the like. The words "pecuniary profit" are evidently taken from subdivision 3 of section 1038 of the statutes, and so far as possible should receive the same construction in connection with income taxation as with property taxation. Speaking generally this section must be strictly interpreted and all doubts resolved in favor of taxation and against exemption. For example, co-operative associations, either mutual savings or loan and building associations would appear to be plainly subject to taxation when they make and declare dividends or in any way are conducted for the pecuniary benefit of the group of associates.

Section 1087m-5-3. Income derived from property and privileges by persons now or hereafter by law to pay taxes or income fees directly into the treasury of the state in lieu of taxes, and such persons shall continue to pay taxes and income fees as heretofore.

This section would seem to exempt from the payment of income tax: a. Railroad companies; b. Palace and sleeping car companies; c. Freight line and equipment companies; d. Express companies; e. Street railway companies including connected electric light, heat and power companies; f. Telegraph companies; g. Boom and improvement companies; h. Bank road companies; i. Fire insurance companies; j. Life insurance companies; k. Accident, surety, etc., companies; l. Telephone companies; m. Title guaranty companies.

This section does not exempt water, light, heat, power and other public utilities taxable locally.

Section 1087m-5-1. Income received by the United States, the state and all counties, cities, villages, school districts or other political units of this state.

Farmer Treated Like Others.

In laying and collecting the income tax no distinction will be made as to occupation; the professional man, the business man, the manufacturer and the farmer are required by the statute to comply with all requirements of the law and to make returns within a reasonable time from the date in which they receive their papers and in any event when an income is taxable and the person has not received their blank forms for return the law makes it obligatory on them to report anyway and the excuse for not reporting because blanks have not been sent to them is of no avail.

PIONEER FOOTVILLE WOMAN DIED TODAY

Mrs. Julia Antoinette Bailey, Who Settled There Sixty Years Ago, Passes Away In This City.

Mrs. Julia Antoinette Bailey, who with her husband, Edwin Bailey, settled at Footville sixty years ago, died at 6:20 o'clock this morning at the home of her only daughter, Mrs. Ira Fisher, 227 Madison street, at the age of eighty-four years and five months. Her health had been gradually failing for a long time.

Mrs. Bailey was born in Goshen, Connecticut, September 6, 1828, her maiden name being Julia Austin. She was married to Goshen to Edwin Bailey and soon afterwards moved with him to the village of Footville, which had recently been platted by Mr. Foot. Mr. Bailey died forty-one years ago. His widow continued to reside there until five years ago when she came to this city to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Ira Fisher, her only surviving child. A brother, Henry Austin of Footville, died just eight years ago today. Mrs. Bailey also leaves three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, the Rev. Father William of Trinity church officiating. Burial will be in the Grove cemetery in the town of Center.

TODAY'S EVANSVILLE NEWS

EVANSVILLE WOMAN KILLED IN A FALL DOWN STAIRS TODAY

Mrs. Levi Knepper, Aged 83, Found Dead Early Today by Mrs. Van Patten With Whom She Lived.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Wis., Feb. 15.—Mrs. Levi Knepper, an aged and respected resident of this city, was found dead at the foot of the stairs at the home of Mrs. Hiram Van Patten with whom she lived, about seven o'clock this morning.

It was evident that she had fallen from the top of the stairs when overcome by a fainting spell or a dizzy spell to which she was subject. Her neck was broken by the fall and she died instantly. Her body was found by Mrs. Van Patten who lived down stairs and who had gone to the stair door to call her for breakfast.

Dr. C. M. Smith Jr., who was called immediately stated that Mrs. Knepper had been dead for several hours. It is believed that she had arisen early for some reason or other but on her way down stairs had been taken with some sort of sickness and was unable to prevent herself from falling.

Mrs. Van Patten heard nothing of the fall and was shocked when the body fell out on the floor when she opened the stair door. She summoned aid at once.

Mrs. Knepper had also lived until the 31st of March, would have been 83 years old. She was an old resident of Rock county having lived in or near Evansville for the past fifty-eight years. Her husband passed away several years ago.

Mrs. Knepper had made her home for the past twelve years with Mrs. Van Patten, keeping her apartments upstairs and taking her meals with the latter in her rooms on the first floor. Her health had been about as usual of late and there were no indications toward suicide or foul play.

Many friends in and near Evansville will mourn her sudden and tragic death. She had been a woman beloved by all who knew her.

She leaves no children. Funeral announcement will be made later.

FUNERAL IS HELD FOR JAMES CARSON

Washington, D. C.—The next two years will be devoted by Andrew Carnegie's architect, Mr. Albert Kelcey, of Philadelphia, to the preparation of plans for the magnificent memorial Indian building to be erected in Washington by the steel magnate and other philanthropists. Mr. Kelcey announced that he would visit Indian settlements from the Isthmus of Panama to Alaska in search of ideas. The memorial to American Indian, ancient art, traditions and habits of the aborigines will be minutely studied and as far as possible will be symbolized in architectural designs. A broad flight of steps leading to a wide platform will form a spacious approach, in the center of which will be an equestrian statue of an Indian with uplifted hand, in token of peace and friendship. On each side towers will stand in which a collection of old, soft-toned mission bells will hang, gathered from several states. There will be a library and a small museum, but the great central thought is to epitomize in the walls of the building itself a lasting memory and to make of it a meeting place for the representatives of all the tribes in annual convention.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

A Leap Year Party.

SINCE the opportunity to indulge in a Leap Year party comes only once in four years, it certainly should not be neglected now that this rare visitor upon the calendar has arrived.

February twenty-ninth is a very appropriate date for such an affair, though a party of this sort can be given at any time during the year. A Leap Year Dance is a very popular form of leap year entertainment. When sending the invitations, the numerals of the year should be conspicuously written, and the words "Leap Year Dance" prominently placed. For such an affair it is customary to send the invitations to the ladies, and let them invite the men. But if preferred, the leap year character of the affair need not appear until the guests are assembled.

If, however, the girls invite the men, it adds to the fun of the affair if they send flowers. A huge box may enclose a tiny boutonniere. Cabbage leaves or onions can be so cut and wired as to resemble chrysanthemums. The more travesty of the real thing in these, the better, for it all adds to the hilarity of the occasion.

In spite of its being a leap year party, a girl likes to look her prettiest. But if she can add a manly touch to her attire, it all furthers the fun.

The hostess can leave the reception of the guests to her husband or brother, if she has such belongings, while she strolls around and talks to the other women. The ladies should gather in groups and talk, while the men seat themselves in the chairs along the wall, as is often done at parties. Of course, the girls ask the men to dance, wait upon them at refreshment time, and in all ways conduct themselves as do their masculine escorts under usual conditions.

If dancing is not a part of the evening's entertainment, or if some other amusement is wanted to fill part of the time, progressive proposals are lots of fun.

For this, the hostess should provide sheets, pillowcases and masks or each woman guest may be asked to bring her own. Cozy corners and secluded nooks should be arranged, and the lights prettily shaded. The girls wrapped in sheets and pillowcases, and thoroughly masked so that their identity cannot be discovered, take their station in the various cozy seats, and to these fair maidens, the men in procession make their way. Five minutes are given for each maid to offer her hand and heart in the prettiest way she knows how. When the time is up each man passes on to the next girl, leaving with the one who has just made an offer, a heart or an arrow, according to his judgment of the worth of the proposal. When the game is finished the girl who has the greatest number of hearts can be awarded a prize if the hostess wishes, also the one receiving the greatest number of arrows.

Attractive prizes for Leap Year Parties for the girls are miniature boxes of candy, cigars or cigarettes, toy pistols, swords, gorgeous decorations for bravery, toy pipes and stelas, and such things, and for the men kitchen utensils, sewing outfits, and things with feminine flavor. Also many of the heart-shaped trifles that abound for Valentine's Day are quite appropriate for a leap year affair.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

"LEARN to write something," urges a neighbor of mine, "about the woman who asks you to do an errand for her when you are going shopping and forgets to give you the wherewithal."

"Oh, no, I don't mean that she forgets it permanently. She gives it to you when you get back maybe, or a day or two later, but she doesn't give it to you when she gives you the commission."

"Maybe what she asks you to get costs three or four dollars, and, of course, you wouldn't dream of asking for the money, but suppose your husband gave you just five dollars that morning to do a few little errands. You can see that several of those little errands will have to go undone if you subtract three or four from five."

Have you also met the lady?

I suspect you have, for she is a very common or garden variety of—well, "spongers," seems to me about the best word for her.

She is notably present in the summer colony where she is perpetually asking the working girl who goes back and forth to town every day, to get her this or that little thing.

I know one working girl who spent the summer about thirty miles from the city, and being one of the few to go back and forth every day, was often loaded down with bundles for these folks. Her financial experiences were much the same as my neighbors', and being a girl entirely dependent on her own earnings, there were actually several occasions just before pay day, when commissions like these so depleted her pocketbook, that she had to go without her luncheon.

I should think that anyone who was accepting such a gift of time and strength from another, would take pretty good care not to add a financial inconvenience to an obligation already sufficiently heavy.

For that very frequent person who can always "remember your face perfectly, but simply can't recall your name," and whose case was discussed in these columns a while ago, a kind reader has sent in this suggestion:

"Write each new name which you wish to remember on a card, spelling it out letter by letter as you do so. Long afterwards, when trying to recall the name, out from your subconscious storehouse comes the card into your mental vision, each letter appearing plainly before you." Try it!

I wonder how many people are unconscious Sunshiners?

You think that wonder needs translating? I suspect it does. To be a "Sunshiner" means to belong to the Sunshine Society. The Sunshine Society is an International Organization, whose one purpose is to bring sunshine into lives that lack it. And not only to the lives of poor folks, but to lonely people, old people, shut-ins, in fact, to all shadow lives, whatever their rank or station.

What I meant by being an unconscious member, was unconsciously paying the dues of this society.

For this society demands of its members a very unique toll—simply this—one kind act a day.

As an interesting experiment, suppose you look back over the past week and tell yourself whether it has qualified you to belong to the Sunshine Society. Or would you find the dues too exacting?

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Dedicated coconut can be made at home with a little work, but costing much less than the proprietary article. Break the shell and carefully remove all of the brown coat and run the white meat through a meat chopper, using a coarse cutter at first, then a finer one. This will not take as much time as trying to cut it fine at first. To every quart of the ground nut meat add a cupful of sugar, stir well and stand in the oven or warming oven until thoroughly dry, stirring occasionally. It will take two days to dry, but the result will be very satisfactory.

Coconut Cookies.—Cream one and a half cups of sugar with a cup of warmed butter. Add three well beaten eggs and three tablespoonsful of milk, a cupful of dedicated coconut and three cupfuls of flour, sifted, with four teaspoonsful of baking powder. Mix and bake.

Roast Beef Sandwiches.—These are very nice for a hot supper or luncheon dish. Place rounds or slices of buttered bread covered with slices of cold roast beef, season and pour hot gravy over the sandwich and serve hot.

Pear Dessert.—Take the juice of canned pears, add a little mace to it and boil to extract the flavor. Pour over the pears and serve with whipped cream for dessert.

Uncooked Mince.—Two cupfuls of chopped meat to five, cupfuls of chopped apple, three cups of raisins, one cup of vinegar, a cup of cider, a tablespoonful of cinnamon, a cup of molasses and a cup of stout. This will keep a long time if very cold or may be cooked, and will keep indefinitely.

Potato Puffs.—To each cupful of mashed potato take one egg, one tablespoonful of milk, two tablespoonsful of flour, one-fourth of a teaspoon of baking powder and salt to season. Mix well and roll into finger rolls, fry in deep fat as doughnuts. Serve hot.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Comparative Value of Large and Small Rugs. Best Selections.

By Alice E. Whitaker.

Selecting a rug is not always an easy matter even when you think that you know just what you want. Rugs look so differently when spread out on the floor in the great carpet store and in the subdued light that is so unlike the bright sunshine coming in at your bay window.

Then again the rug that pleases by day sometimes looks spottily by night and the pretty shades of color that were so pleasing in the strong light do not show up well.

What shall a woman buy who cannot have, or does not care to invest in, the imported rugs. Out of their experience I have heard many housekeepers praise the best grades of the domestic Smyrna which comes in a wonderful variety of colors and designs. This sort of rug lies flat on the floor and cleans easily by the vacuum method. The Axminster does not lie so well on the floor and it is more of an effort to carry the suction piece of the cleaner over its surface. Neither does it sweep so easily with the broom as the Smyrna. The tapestry rug made with the border is good but it needs to be fastened to the floor and is perhaps more limited in variety.

When carpets went out of fashion and rugs took their place it was natural to select a large rug that nearly covered the floor. The nine by twelve also was popular and possibly because the floors were no so common as now and it was a frequent practice to fill the cracks and stain and varnish a deep border round the room.

Later many old floors were re-laid, some with a border and others entirely in hard wood, at the price that was formerly paid for a carpet. All new houses had at least the lower floors of hard wood. Now it is a very cheap house that does not have fine floors.

The large rug alluded to were a burden to carry out of doors to be swept or beaten but they were better than carpets fastened down by tacks. Gradually housekeepers came to prefer several smaller rugs to the single large ones because they were so much easier to handle and because they were no longer a sham but were all alike.

The vacuum cleaner overcomes the need of carrying rugs out to beat and in some cases has brought the large rug into favor again. Indeed it would be possible now to keep a tacked down carpet clean by the vacuum if one cared to go back to the complete floor covering.

Families who move a great deal should buy rather small rugs and be careful in selecting the coloring. A green rug will harmonize with almost every thing and a dull red or wood brown combined with a little black and a little medley of other colors is

NEW FACES IN CONGRESSIONAL SOCIETY.

Washington, D. C.—Among the wives of the many new congressmen who are spending their first winter in Washington and taking an active part in the society life of the Congressional set, are Mrs. Horace M. Stephens, wife of the new Congressman from Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Charles Matthews, wife of the new Congressman from Newcastle, Pa.

MRS. C.D. GIBSON

MOST BEAUTIFUL WOMAN IN THE WORLD

Ottawa.—The section by Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson of the ten most beautiful women in New York City led a representative of this paper to ask her husband, the famous illustrator, whom he considered the ten most beautiful women in the world. His answer marks Gibson as not only an illustrator but a diplomat.

"I dare not," he replied. "I can, however, name one whom I know to be beautiful. She is Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson. I name her and no other because it puts me right at home. Consequently it puts me right with the other 41,999,999 beautiful women of the world."

Mrs. Gibson was one of the beautiful Lauchlin girls of Virginia. One of her sisters is Mrs. Wallcott Astor.

LUCY EMERSON

A SCULPTRESS IN BUTTER.

Quilman, Pa.—Miss Lucy Emerson jumped into prominence over night through her ability to model remarkable works of art out of butter. This picture shows her standing besides her recent group a cow and her calf modelled in butter, which was the usual safe but beware of pink or blue unless there is a decided predominance of the same color in the general furnishings.

When a rug is taken up at cleaning time or to be stored in the summer, never allow it to be folded. No matter how small it be, roll and tie so that it will remain rolled. A rug that is folded for any length of time is likely to show that fold as long as it lasts. It may be true that stacks of folded rugs are seen in the stores but the folds in many of these, especially hall runners, never quite flattens out.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN

"COLDS."

It is a well demonstrated fact that when one has fasted for several days, reducing the weight below the standard and eliminating the waste matter in the system which supports all disease, it is impossible to contract a cold. Therefore the germ is not the cause of colds, although specific germs (with certain other conditions) differentiate cold, typhoid, pneumonia and other diseases. If the system is overloaded with waste matter, produced by wrong diet, bad mental conditions and defective elimination, resulting from defective action of the skin, kidneys, lungs, liver, bad diet, insufficient exercise, bad mental conditions—all interrelated—"cold," typhoid, pneumonia, or other disease, is established when vitality is lowered beyond the point of successful resistance; but the essential fundamental cause of germ diseases is defective nutrition, with lowered resistance and certain other contributory factors.

Simple Way of Banishing Wrinkles and Double Chin.

(Woman at Home)

No woman, of whatever age, likes to give up her beauty and resign herself to a wrinkled face, double chin, crow's feet and enlarged pores or a bad complexion. Clever women are beginning to understand that wrinkles and kindred troubles are not necessary. All one has to do is to get her druggist an ounce and a half of her druggist's jelly, rubbing it freely into her skin until it is perfectly absorbed, and then bathing her face with cold water. This remedy has an immediate refreshing action and the flesh quickly becomes firm and compact and hollows begin to fill out. Every day the woman using this simple treatment is told, by her interior that she is growing younger and prettier. Especially is this true if she is wise enough to use a little pure cod liver oil at the same time to renew her complexion. The thickening of the middle outer skin and bones reveals the smooth fresh bloom of youth.

Famous "Pint of Cough Syrup" Receipt

No Better Remedy at Any Price. Fully Guaranteed.

Make a plain syrup by mixing one pint of granulated sugar and 1/2 pint of warm water and stir for two minutes. Put 200 grains of pure Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough syrup at a saving of $2. It never spoils. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold instantly, and will usually stop the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. It tones up the faded appetite and is just laxative enough to be helpful in a cough, and has a pleasing taste. Also excellent for bronchitis, trouble in throat, sore lungs and asthma; and an unequalled remedy for whooping cough and croup.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) is a prime favorite in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, though never successfully. If you try it, use only genuine Pinex, which is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in gualac and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this recipe.

A mixture of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Thought for Today

By MRS. ROBERT M. LAFOLLETTE.

REAL USE.

A FINE little woman who believes in the new education, is adding the authorities here in Washington to allow the boys of the manual training school, to build a house on one of the school garden plots, where it is needed for shade and shelter.

Many experiments are being tried along the line of applied manual training. I have read that at the Springfield, Mass., vocational school, the boys have built a four-room cottage for the use of the domestic science department. At Tuskegee Institute, the first six grades are kept, not in a school house, but in the children's house, where the girls learn not only the common school branches, but all the various arts of housekeeping, and in the shops the boys make furniture for the house. Gary, Ind., Rochester, N. Y., and other places are working out similar ideas.

Dr. A. E. Winslow says: "It is clearly demonstrated that a boy at the bench half the time can get as much scholarship power in the other half as though he had spent all his school time at books, and had found his recreation at football or on the running track." It is found that boys and girls enter very much more heartily into the spirit of vocational education when it is of actual use—girls caring for a house, boys building one, do not shirk, but are enthused and inspired by their work.

Useful results are even more needful as an incentive to children than to grown-ups. Think of the enormous waste of energy in the long period devoted purely to book education if half the time could better be employed in industry. The organization of the school on the plan of real happiness, actual usefulness to the community life, while learning to read and cipher, is the beginning of better balanced education.

Danderine

Stops Falling Hair and Destroys Dandruff

Makes the Hair Grow Long, Heavy and Luxuriant and We Can Quickly Prove It

If You Wish to Double the Beauty of Your Hair at Once, Just Get a 25 Cent Bottle and Try This

Surely try a Danderine Hair Cleanse. If you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair with little trouble and at a cost not worth mentioning—just wash your hair with a little Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of Dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. It's stimulating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks' use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth you desire.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

HOW CHRONIC COUGHS
Are Being Cured by Vinol
New Haven, Conn.—"I was troubled with a most persistent chronic cough for a long time and had tried so many remedies and prescriptions without benefit that I was discouraged. I was persuaded by my friends to try Vinol. After taking the second bottle, my cough left me, and I must say I never felt better in my life. I can also recommend Vinol to any one in a run-down condition as the best possible remedy."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the code's liver, added by the blood-making and strength-giving properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient in curing chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system. Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

PRE-LENTEN PERIOD IN SOCIETY CIRCLES

Many Parties Are Crowded Into Last Ten Days Before Ash Wednesday—Geo. McKoy Is Again Host.

Many social events will be crowded into the week which remains before the beginning of the Lenten season. With the present week the number of dances, dinners, and bridge parties given in Janesville homes were greatly increased, Lincoln's birthday and Valentine's day giving opportunities for special festivities.

George M. McKoy entertained last evening at a Valentine party, which was the third of a series of parties that he has given at his home on East street. The guests were received by Mr. McKoy and Misses Juliet Dost, Hazel Spencer and Louise Merrill. A delightful dance program of waltzes, two-steps and cotillions, was furnished by Ray Carter and the evening passed most pleasantly.

Valentine favors of paper caps and collars to the ladies, and high hats and nose masks for the men, were given and created considerable merriment.

Miss Scartiff Entertained.
Miss Marie Scartiff entertained a company of thirty young friends at her home, 164 South Franklin street, last evening. The home was beautifully decorated with the various symbols of St. Valentine's day and appropriate favors were given to the guests. A delightful dance program was furnished, and the evening passed very pleasantly.

Gave Surprise Party.
Friends of Roy Reichold gave him a pleasant surprise at his home, 324 Cherry street, last evening. Amusements appropriate to Valentine's day made the time pass pleasantly. Those present were: Misses Emma Hill, Donna Decker, Alma Neltz, Laura Morech, Millie Bier, Esther Demmon, Ella Schilling, Clara Morech, Mary Hanks, Martha Schilling, Lillie Hill, Viola Seeman, Frieda Hodel, Edna Demmon and Lillian Stevens, and Henry Vollbrecht, Jas. Eury, Richard Stompa, Paul Manther, Frank Duxes, Jas. Peeney, Herman Perleberg, Wm. Reichold.

Entertained at Bridge.
Mrs. Arthur Burdick entertained a party of ladies at bridge at her home on Sheldahl street yesterday afternoon. Mrs. John Fuller Sweeney won the honors.

Club Held Dance.
Members of the J. B. C. club entertained a number of friends at a St. Valentine's day dance at east side Old Fellows' hall last evening. In addition to an observance of Valentine's day the party was a leap year affair. Music was furnished by Hatch's orchestra.

Entertained Society.
Mrs. Thomas Hoesche entertained the Ladies' Society at her home yesterday afternoon. Cards were played and refreshments were served.

Miss Bessie Griffin entertained at a Valentine party at her home in Afton last night. The decorations were red hearts and other designs appropriate for the occasion. A delightful time was enjoyed.

Miss Bradley Surprised.
Miss Viola Bradley was surprised by eight girl friends at her home on Milton avenue last evening. The evening was spent in a delightful manner and refreshments appropriate to Valentine's day were served.

A Pleasant Surprise.
About forty of the friends of Miss Verna Hatten gave her a pleasant surprise at the home of her father, last Saturday evening, in honor of sixteenth birthday. She received many presents from her friends. Cards and dancing served as amusement for the evening. At midnight a delicious picnic supper was served. All present reported a good time.

CUNNINGHAM REPLIES TO COWLES LETTER

Wants to Know Why Tax Commission Assessor Took Copy of Testimony—No Expense Account Filed.

Attorney J. J. Cunningham replies in this issue to the letter of H. V. Cowles, the tax commission assessor which was published in the Tuesday evening issue of the Gazette, defending his taking from the city a copy of the testimony given before the Board of Review. His letter reads as follows:

Editor Gazette:

Mr. Cowles' article of Tuesday evening respecting the reassessment has come to my notice, I find by inquiring of the shorthand reporter who took the testimony for the Board of Review that her charge for transcribing three copies of the 570 pages of testimony taken was $65.00 and her days work in taking down the testimony was $60, a total of $125. If "the city paid for one copy at the rate of five cents per folio and received what it paid for" it would pay for the 570 pages, which amounted to 1560 folios, about $28.00. But that is more than the entire charge of the reporter for transcribing three copies. Mr. Cowles' letter suggests that he personally took a copy of the testimony at his own expense the same as any other citizen would have a right to do.

But why would Mr. Cowles personally desire a copy of the testimony? Another thing of more importance is this: "The reassessment law provides that each item of expense shall be verified by the affidavit of the claimant or some person having knowledge of the fact and shall show the number of days for which compensation is claimed, the rate per day, the total character of the service, the total amount claimed, etc., and 'each such claim shall be approved, if correct, by a member of such board (of review) and by a county supervisor of assessment' and 'a memorandum of all such claims, showing the number of days and character of services and amount due to each person, shall be entered at the foot of the record of the proceedings of such board.' And 'shall be approved, if correct, by a member of such board (of reassessment) and by the county supervisor of assessment'."

No such "memorandum," and no items of cost or expense, and no record whatever of the expense is found anywhere with the record of the proceedings of such board or in the records of the city of Janesville. This statement of expenses ought to be filed as required by the law so that the citizens of Janesville may inspect the same and see, if they desire, what the cost of this reassessment has been to the city.

I had no quarrel with Mr. Cowles. My complaint is against the system and the laws of this state which provide for the doing of these things from the Capitol of the state and by commissioners, which should be done and can be done much cheaper and better by the locality itself.

J. J. CUNNINGHAM.

A FEW LITTLE SMILES

I Wonder,
Ella—The gentleman who lodges above appears to be very attentive to you.
Della—Ah, yes; I am even engaged to him. But yet I am tortured with doubt. Would that I knew whether he loves me for myself alone.
Ella—But why in the world should he marry you otherwise?
Della—Well, to tell the truth, he owes my mother six months' rent.

Contrariwise.
"Molly has won a very strenuous young fellow for a husband, hasn't she?"
"Well, now, from the way he coaxes and humors her, I should call him rather a Molly oddball."

KNEWHE WAS COMING.

When little Dorothy Walworth was introduced to her new baby brother at her home in Yonkers she manifested interest, but was not astonished. She did not even ask questions.
"What do you think of your baby brother Dorothy?" the nurse inquired.
"Oh," she replied, "I knew he was coming."
"How did you know it, dear?"
"I was down to Bronx Park and saw the stork. I recognized him by the black stripes on his wings: that papa said were there. Well, I just went close to the stork, when he was standing on one leg, and whispered that I wanted him to bring me a baby brother. I knew he would do it, too." And the little girl looked wise and very mysterious.
"What made you think he would do as you asked, Dorothy?"
"Cause he looked straight at me and winked his eye," was the emphatic response.—New York Herald.

The Natural Process.
"Swans sing before they die, don't they?"
"So they say."
"Well, wouldn't it be a nice arrangement if nature would only reverse the process and make some people die before they sing?"

Its Odor.

But the scent of the whisky will hang around the still.

His Business.
"I know a man, a good business man, too, who always takes people, no matter who they are, on their face value."
"Is he a fool?"
"No; he's a photographer."

Not Surprising.
"I know a man who is never troubled by the police through he openly denies in green goods."
"How is that?"
"He is a huckster."

Consulting the Playwright.
"My star can wiggle his ears and whistle through his teeth."
"Um."
"Now can you build me a three-act comedy around that?"

He Did Better.
Marks—I married my wife a month after she accepted me.
Parks—That's nothing. I married mine three days after she refused me.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES.

NEW YORK
(By Howard L. Hann.)

New York which is one of the most prosperous and enterprising cities on the East river, was discovered in 1609 by Hendrick Hudson, who ran into it while he was looking for something else. Soon after landing, Hendrick made the acquaintance of the Long Island mosquito, which accompanied him wherever he went and took his mind off other matters, so after shipping a little soft coal and cement plaster he removed himself from the premises never to return. Two years later a gentleman named Block happened along that way and opened a saloon on the Bowery. As Mr. Block's head bore a close resemblance to his name he was not annoyed by the mosquitoes and remained until Wall street, which was then playing a table stakes game, tapped him for all he had in sight. New York's chief curiosity is Tammany Hall, which is led out in view of the struggling masses every two years and bent on to a melancholy dribble by the forces of reform. This has happened so often that Tammany hasn't much left but the general assembly and the city administration, New York is one of the cheapest places in the country to live in. A man can secure a neat single room, with all the comforts of home, including the sleep-walking gas meter, for less than he could afford to build a bungalow on Fifth avenue, and a fair imitation of creamery butter seldom costs over $2 a square inch. Some of the buildings in New York are so tall that the elevators are equipped with upper and lower berths. Every once in a while somebody who doesn't want a stop-over jumps from the upper deck of one of these buildings with so much success that he has to be identified by his insurance agent. New York has a large floating debt, which is kept afloat by a royal bounty in the tax levy at stated periods. In the winter the city is filled with unlearned increment and the parasite rich and in the summer with the plaintive murmur of the sunstroke. It is a delightful place to spend a vacation on your wife's money.

FORTY YEARS AGO.

Janesville Gazette, Feb. 15 1872.—The English minister, Thornton, says that he believes that the misunderstanding with reference to the Washington Treaty can be satisfactorily settled.
Lord Chief Justice Cockburn, British member of the Geneva board of arbitration, has refused to admit the claims for indirect damages.
The Atty. Gen. has decided in the case of the steamer Hornet to allow her to go to New York upon bond to be entered by sufficient sureties that she will proceed direct to New York from Baltimore and go no where else.
The Grant County Democrat's correspondent at Fair play writes: "The most wonderful discovery of lead ever found in this neighborhood is on the land owned by Mrs. Ellen Williams. The ore is twelve feet wide, filled with mineral, at a depth of forty-five feet from the surface."
Nearly every citizen is empty and the ice peddlers are doing a good business.
Prof. Blakelock is preparing the cantata "Captivity" which will be brought out in two or three weeks.
We hear that a remonstrance to Graham's Temperance bill is being circulated and signed in the city.
The manner in which Sheriff Albright snatched an overgrown boy out of the post office last night was particularly pleasing to those who have all winter been discomfited by the presence of the fellow and his lawless associates.
The bill amending our city charter was introduced by Mr. Graham into the Assembly on Monday last. It will probably be passed in its regular order, as there seems to be no opposition to its provisions.

UNCLE WALT The Post Philosopher

True Greatness.
A man's true greatness lies in the consciousness of an honest purpose in life, founded on a just estimate of himself and everything else, and a steady obedience to the rule which he knows to be right.—Long.

The orators rage up and down, and often blow into our town to talk on Vital Themes; they give us theories new and old, Napoleonic plans unfold, and hand us crazy dreams. I'd like to hear one man of power talk plain like honest lads, and learn to save their hard-earned scads—such talk as that is wise. Bill Wax draws fifteen bones a week and says the government's a freak since he does not get more; he thinks it is the nation's crime that he has such a bonafide time to keep wolves from his door. And when he gets his weekly pay he blows the most of it away, his salary has wings; he buys the dearest kind of meat, all sorts of flossy things to eat, instead of simpler things. He spends his money like a child, and then he listens to some wild spellbinder hand out guff, assuring him his poor because the country needs some better laws, and all that sort of stuff. Ten thousand talkers in this land, and never one of them will stand before an audience and argue that a man should jerk his jacket and get to work and exorcise horse sense.

BEWARE OF FIRE

Once started it is almost impossible to overcome a fierce blaze. That's the old-fashioned line of thought. Now it is: Don't be afraid of fire. Take home some "Liberty" Dry Chemical Fire Extinguishers and forget about fire.
Every auto owner should carry some in his car and have some in his garage.
They'll destroy the worst blaze by smothering it. Perfectly simple. Agents wanted everywhere for "Liberty" Products. Good salesmen can make from $20 to $30 per week.
